First in line

In a complex industry where know-how is everything, Gebo Cermex is formed from the union of two strong brands: Gebo & Cermex, gathering packaging line engineering experience across a range of market segments from beverages and food to pharmaceuticals, via home and personal care.

For over half a century, our experts have improved the performance of production and packaging lines in some of the most demanding industries.

Today more than 37 000 equipment and systems installations bear our signature. We add value to our customers' business in four dimensions, from equipment design and manufacturing to line engineering, services and asset performance.

Gebo Cermex, headquartered in Strasbourg, France is a people-centric organization with 1800 employees and over 20 commercial and manufacturing sites in all major regions around the world.

No-one knows packaging lines like we do. We are first in line.
